Take A Closer
Look! Why Do I Belong?

Occasionally someone asks me why I belong to the Association for Facilities Engineering. I tell them I belong because:

- I do not think that I know all that there is to know about the facilities engineering profession.
- I want to keep up with the ever-changing developments in the facilities engineering field.
- I want to attend meetings where I can network with other facility engineers and learn from their experiences.
- I need the best technical information available in every area of facilities engineering and management, and only AFE can provide this service through its publications and web site.
- I belong to AFE to show my employer, my peers, and other professionals in facilities engineering that I take my profession seriously.
- I can earn certification in the Certified Plant Engineer (CPE) and the Certified Plant Maintenance Manager (CPMM) Programs.
- I can find interesting and informative articles in the Facilities Engineering Journal.

I have the opportunity to Learn, Lead and Influence through networking with other industry professionals.
